*contest closed* Waterlicious *Giveaway*

10:10 AM Posted by The Mom Jen

My 3 children are active in sports and dance on a weekly basis. The last thing we do before leaving the house is fill a water bottle. My son started his first year of soccer and they have him running ragged each practice and refueling with a cool drink is essential. Waterlicious sent us a four pack of their healthy new flavored water to try and let me just say, my son is absolutely hooked!

Waterlicious is the first vitamin and fiber-enhanced, healthy, flavored water designed specifically for the taste profile of children, here's why you should try it...

--it's specially formulated for children, fills the void for healthy alternatives to high-calorie, high-sugar sodas and concentrated juices.

--it is the first children's water product to include fiber. Fiber has been identified as key element in preventing child obesity.

--contains the essential vitamins for healthy growth and development of strong bodies, including B3, B5, B6 and B12 Vitamin C and Calcium.

--contains all-natural flavors.

--contains Crystalline Fructose, a natural fruit sugar that is slow to absorb and does not adversely affect blood sugar levels, rather than High-Fructose Corn Syrup and artificial sweeteners that are known to be unhealthy.
